What: This event will feature opportunities for professional networking, an educational program, committee work sessions, and a business meeting of the Board of Directors.

Featured Educational Program: Boiler Water Treatment -- Why It Is Important

Presentation topics will include pretreatment, corrosion, scale, energy savings, and safety.

About the presenter: Josh Greene, Water Treatment Consultant, Premier Water and Energy Technologies, Inc. -- Josh brings over twenty years of experience in industrial water treatment, specializing in boilers, steam distribution, pre-treatment, cooling, and process water. Josh's water treatment journey began as the son of an engineer, so being a water treatment professional has been a lifelong endeavor. Josh has sat on numerous engineering and utility committees. Over his career he has had extensive experience designing and maintenance of chemical treatment programs as large as power generation boilers and as small as sterile steam processing boilers for hospitals. Josh now manages three states with multiple account managers, service managers, and field technicians.
